It provides an important guarantee for the implementation of relevant national policies, the improvement of health personnel quality, population health and social sustainable development.

Seminar
Content

The training course will introduce China's practice and experience in maternal health care technique. Based on the current situation and existing problems in the health field, we will share China's experience in policies, management, and service technique in this field, to improve the level of maternal health care technique in developing countries, and help improve service quality.

The training content consists of expert lectures, exchange discussions, visits, etc., Details show below:

1. Lectures: Lectures are divided into two aspects: macro strategy discussion and achievement experience sharing. In terms of macro strategy, within the framework of the United Nations Millennium Development Goals and the Sustainable Development Goals, the training course will review the latest progress and developments in the promotion of maternal and child health care in the international community, make a macro introduction to the remarkable achievements and future challenges of China's maternal and child cause, and better appeal to everyone to improve maternal and child health policies and laws. In terms of achievement experience sharing, the training course will mainly introduce and share China's experience and strategies in maternal health care technique.

2. Exchange and Discussion: Based on the ideas learned in the training course and the national conditions of the countries where the trainees are located, discuss the relevant issues in the field of maternal health care technique currently faced by developing countries, and seek common ideas to promote development.

3. Visits and Inspections: The training course will arrange attending officials to visit and inspect service institutions in the field of maternal and child health. Through on-site visits and exchanges, we can gain a more intuitive understanding of China's operation in the public service system for maternal and child health. In addition, the training course will also arrange for officials to experience traditional Chinese culture, enabling them to have a more comprehensive understanding and experience of China's socio-economic development.
